

Joyce Tannian '83 is a mezzo soprano who performs with the New York Metro Vocal Arts Ensemble, “a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing performance opportunities to young singers in a supportive atmosphere, and to bringing music to under-served populations in the New York City area. NYMVAE performs concert-version and staged operatic works in public locales, as well as in hospitals, nursing homes and senior centers throughout the New York Metropolitan area” (NYMVAE web site). In January 2006, Tannian traveled to Kenya to participate in the BEADS for Education “Break the Chains of Illiteracy Walkathon” to provide educational, economic, and medicinal programs for Kenyan women.